

PEDAS has been invited to participate in an open day at Dunshay Manor, Harmans Cross, Swanage BH19 3EB. The day is being run by the Landmark Trust and we have been asked to provide artists to demonstrate their work throughout the day. Seven artists will be demonstrating a range of skills from painting in oils, watercolour and acrylics to crafts and badge making. Visitors will be invited to participate and try their hand at creating some artwork.

Painter Barry Kavanagh will be encouraging guests to add to a Van Gogh inspired landscape painting; Pam Marshall specialises in oil painting and will be giving hints and tips throughout the day. We will be hosting an interactive painting session with Penny Wilton who works mainly in acrylics and watercolours; artist Carol Cox will be showing people how to make sculptural pieces using recycling packaging, whilst Dawn Goodson will be painting the manor on plein air. Sketch artist David Roberts who works primarily in pen and ink will be on site and pet portraitist Steph Jones will be capturing any furry friends. There will be a chance for you to design and make your own badge with Dave Jones as a memento of the day.
